NEWS of the WEEK

War Disturbs Europe
Paris, France—The civil war in Spain has reached proportions here a chain of circumstances might well endanger the peace of Europe. While France has appealed to Great Britain and Italy for an agreement of neutrality toward the Spanish belligerents, a considerable section of French public opinion favors the shipment of arms and munitions to the Socialist Spanish government for use against the rebellious Fascists who are believed to have the sympathy, perhaps the support of Italy.

Olympic Records Smashed
Berlin, Germany—In the world's largest stadium, before Chancellor Hitler, 110,000 spectators witnessed the opening of the largest Olympiad history, with 5000 athletes from all over the world in attendance. Winning the shot-put, Hans Gellke gave the Reich the first men's track and field champion in Olympic records. In the 100 meters final, Jesse Owens, American, set a new mark of 0:10.2. Cornelius Johnson, another American, broke all high-jump records.

Class I Railroads Prosper
Washington, D. C.—During the last six months of the year, the class I railroads of the country increased their net operating revenues more than 22%. On June 1st revenues were reduced to 2 cents per car, and during the month of June, at full month at the lowered rates, the net operating revenues increased 47.5%, more than double the ratio of the other five months of the half-year.

Unstable Teacher Criticized
Pittston, Pa.—Charging that 60-year-old Anthony Munley, master of a nearby village school, spared no rod to the neglect of his classes, a group of parents protested. They asked a more generous application of corporal punishment. "He has taught 'em right," exploded protesting parent. "My woman had to go to the school to trim my son's hair, and then Professor Munley wouldn't let her lick him with a strap she had." The school board ended the matter by pointing out that the code prohibited whipping.

King Changes Plans
London—King Edward VIII, instead of spending his vacation in the Riviera villa of the American actress, Maxine Elliott, leaves next week on a luxurious chartered yacht for a leisurely cruise in the Atlantic, his own royal yacht being too large to enter the smaller waters. It is believed that the British rebellion caused his advisers to counsel against his Mediterranean vacation.

Bonus Bonds
Washington, D. C.—The Treasury department announces that 2,500,000 veterans, 60% of all bonus recipients had cashed bonds worth $17,400,000. The total amount issued to July 25th was $1,726,480,000. More than 200,000 of the 3,518,000 veterans eligible for a bonus have neglected to apply for one.

France Losing Tourists
Paris, France—In seven years, France's annual tourist business has dwindled from 2,000,000 visitors to 1,000,000, their expenditures from $200,000,000 to $25,000,000, according to a record given the Chamber of Commerce by Gaston Gerard, former French Under-Secretary. He blamed high hotel rates, special exorbitant gasoline prices, uncomfortable trains, but failed to mention tips down in New Orleans, where hotel workers searched through the town displaying signs: "We want soldiers, not tourists."

DIVERS NOW SEEK AUBURN WOMAN WHO DISAPPEARED AT GILEAD LAST WEEK

The search for Mrs. John W. Staples of Auburn, who disappeared from a camp at Gilead village with her Pomeranian dog on Tuesday of last week, has now continued nine days. She left her husband at the camp and was expected back soon. The alarm was given when she failed to return after 40 minutes absence.

It was announced early this morning that the dog had been discovered alive about a mile from Gilead on the Gorham road. Mr. Staples identified the dog and search has been conducted in that vicinity today but further clues have not been found.

As we go to press preparations are being made for a diver to go down near the Androscoggin bridge at Gilead where a dog followed a track to the river bank last week. The river has already been patrolled for several miles downstream from that point. Clairvoyants have agreed that the body will be found in the river.

BAND ORGANIZATION FORMED TUESDAY EVE

At a meeting held at the Legion Rooms Tuesday evening an organization was formed and arrangements made so that a local band seems to be assured. Instruments and music have been ordered and the first rehearsal will be held soon. Mr. Cohen of Rumford was present and said that the Rumford Band will give a concert here for the benefit of the new local enterprise.

Officers chosen are:
President—Erma T. Young
Vice-President—Lester Tebbets Sec.-Treas.—Ralph Young

LOCAL PEOPLE HEAR BETHEL BROADCAST IN NOVA SCOTIA

A letter from Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Jodrey, who are visiting relatives at Brooklyn, N. S., states that they enjoyed listening to the memorial radio service which was held by the First Radio Parish Church last Sunday morning in memory of Dr. William Rogers Chapman at the Chapman residence in this village. Besides the sermon by Rev. Howard Hough, they were much interested in the other features which included a pleasing account of the town's history and location, a fine tribute to Dr. Chapman, scripture reading by Rev. Herbert Wallace of the Bethel Congregational Church, and singing by the choir.

SINGLE MEN WALLOP MARRIED OPPONENTS 10-3

by R. E. D.
Wednesday night saw the married men and single men hooking up again in a return engagement. The single men with all but one B. A. A. regular in their lineup carried too much battling power and holding things for their older opponents.

Gill had plenty on the ball but his support was sadly lacking at times. Quimby, slightly wild, was able to bear down in the pinches and was aided by the nice work of Serfner in center field.

Swan led the married men at bat with two hits, one a double, while Stanley, Hood and Robertson led the youths. Eddie regained his eye with a vengeance, lacing out two singles and a two bagger. Hood's triple was the longest hit of the game.

Catholic Converts Scored

New York City — Although the Official Catholic Directory takes pride in announcing the admission of 63,454 converts to the Church last year, Mary E. McLoughlin, writing in the Jesuit weekly "America" under the title of "Those Terrible Catholic Converts," scores the newcomers from other religions as "intoxicated with the certitude and beauty of the Church, her ceremony, her saintly members dead and living and must needs be doing, writing or preaching soap-boxing, bent on shaming or at least arousing us from lethargy."

Fumbling the Ball

Detroit, Mich. — Scouting for much speechmaking, 17 members of the Detroit Tiger's baseball squad failed to accept an invitation to be guests of honor at a banquet tendered 400 automobile dealers by the Chevrolet Motor Company. Several members however, responded, in addition to a good dinner and a souvenir pen-and-pencil set, each received an $800 de luxe sedan for his trouble.

Costly Senatorial Ambition

Laredo, Texas — It was the ambition of Senator Robert R. Reynolds of North Carolina, to be the United States Senator to drive a car over the new international American highway into Mexico. Near Tuxco, in the State of Hidalgo, bandits held up 12 automobiles, leaving the Senator of $400. "So what I say in the Congressional Record about this!" was the Senator's parting shot.

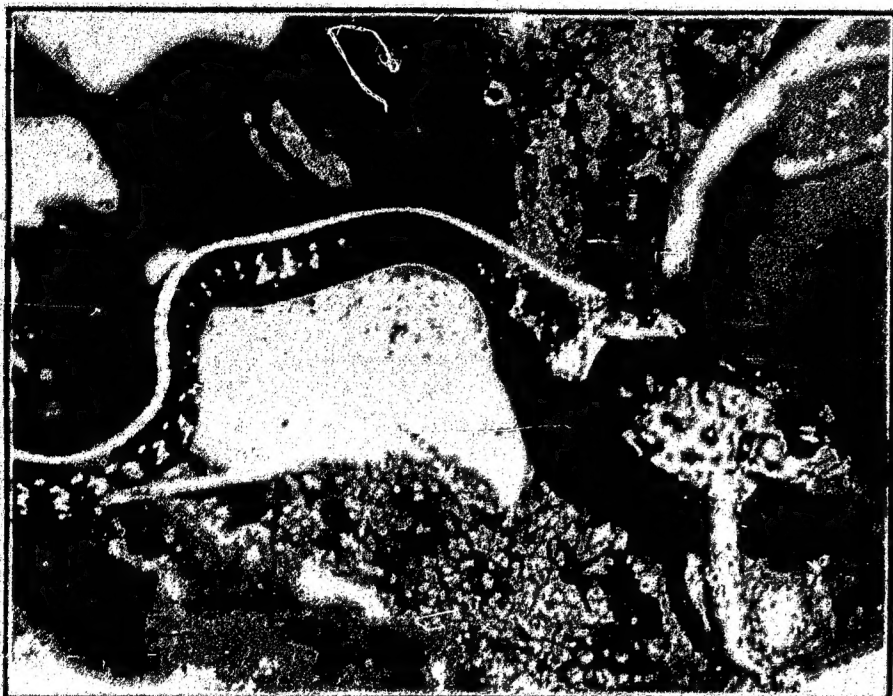

An attractive young movie actress was driving her new car when something went wrong with the engine. The traffic light changed from green to red and back to green and still she could not get the car to budge. The traffic came up.

More and Better Sidewalks—winter

Night Watchman—All the Year Enforced Traffic Rules

NO CHANCE?

Horatio Alger made a name for himself by writing books about something that is peculiarly American—the fact that every man in this country has a chance to win fame and fortune no matter what his start in life. In recent years, however, a lot of malcontents and demagogues have been taking advantage of the depression to insist that all that is changed.

The facts are that the depression slowed up the speed with which everybody was getting ahead. But something that happened in West Virginia the other day shows that the country of which Horatio Alger wrote still exists.

Twenty-two years ago, a lad of 15 went to work at the bottom of the ladder in the Carnegie Steel Company plant at Sharon, Pa. He served in the World War as an aviator, and afterward for a time travelled around as a "barnstorming" stunt flier.

Later, this same lad, then a young man, worked as a mechanic, a riveter, and a salesman. In 1925, he joined the Weirton Steel Company as a salesman. In January, 1929, he became assistant sales manager; in May, 1931, he was appointed assistant to the President, and in July 1934, he was elected a vice president.

The other day, the Weirton Steel Company elected that same man as its President—T. E. Millson. He probably is, at 37, the youngest high executive in the steel industry.

His start from scratch, and his rise to the presidency of one of the biggest steel companies in the land is just one of thousands of similar cases. But the malcontents and demagogues can't afford to admit it for such an admission would make their arguments look as silly as they are.

CURTAINS!!

Jim Jones lives out in the country, twenty miles from his office and drives to work daily. The drive takes place largely on a modern highway, with fast few miles compared to busy streets.

The drive can be made safely in about 25 minutes. But Jim would feel ashamed of his record if he ever took that long. So, by "stepping on her" hard, he manages to make it in 25 minutes, and sometimes less. The other day, in fact he did it in 23 minutes—a saving of 13 minutes over the time taken by more conservative pilots.

That saving of time is a great boon to Jim. It permits him to spend ten or fifteen minutes talking pleasantly to the boys at the clearing stand, or reading the funny papers.
And the day he made his record he spent the saved time, plus quite a few minutes more, boasting about it.

Of course, Jim has to weave in and out of traffic occasionally, cursing the slowpokes who move along at a sedate 48. And sometimes he has to steal a right of way. Now and then he misses a crash by an inch, and after the first flush of nervousness passes, he chuckles to himself about what a good driver he is. Once he did have

THE OBSTRUCTIONIST

a minor accident, but the insurance company paid for that.

There are a good many thousand Jim Joneses driving cars in this country. They go on for years with nothing happening to them—and the inevitable occurs.

Washington Snapshots by JAMES PRESTON

A insidious but very tangible fear is working its way into a lot of Washington minds. It is the belief that World War veterans shortly will demand a bigger share out of the federal grab-bag—and if they do, they will stand a good chance of getting it unless all federal expenditures are drastically cut.

The point is that the federal government pays pensions to all vets of every war but the last one. Only disabled World War veterans get pensions. Now, with billions being dumped around and the bonus paid without any permanently harmful effects yet evident, the World War veterans are beginning to discuss pensions.

The fears were made clear by two recent speeches—one by Gen.
Frank T. Hines, Veterans Administrator, and the other by James E.
Van Zandt, National Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Both warned World War veterans to forget pensions.

What could happen is shocking.
There were only 2,213,365 Civil War veterans, yet in 1935—70 years after the Civil War—veterans of that conflict, and their dependents, drew $63,629,582.72, or an average of $1,060.37 per year per pensioner.

On the other hand, there were 4,764,071 World War veterans. Last year, with pensions going only to disabled, they drew $219,551,128.63.
If they got the same average $1-$1,060.37 pension, the total federal outlay on World War vets would be $5,051,000,000, which is big money even these days.

It's awfully hard, Washington heads admit, to convince a veteran, whose neighbor is getting monthly checks for not raising pigs, that he shouldn't have more of the "easy" money.

The historically minded pulled a surprise the other day on Phillip Murray, vice president of United Mine Workers who are trying to get steel employees into their personal union. Murray and his boss, John L.
Lewis, have shouted to high heaven in criticism of those who sold employees should be allowed to decide whether they wanted to join or stay out of unions. Lewis and Murray want the unions left free to cajole and coerce.

The researchers found that in 1921, when Murray was testifying before a Senate committee, he said a requisite for industrial peace in West Virginia was "the protection of unorganized workers against intimidation or coercion by members of the United Mine Workers OR

ANY OTHER LABOR ORGANIZA-TION." President Roosevelt also wrote the phrase "from any source" into his statement ending the near-strike in the auto industry in 1934.

With the summer lull on, National Press Clubbers have found another way to liven things up a bit. Taking their cue from the new Federal Social Security Act, they are calling one another by numbers rather than names. It used to be:
"Hi, Tom." Now it's: "Hi, Number 23,456,927."

The Treasury will give every employee in the country a number as his records won't get mixed with others who have identical names.
Fingerprinting, long resisted as an anti-crime move, may be resorted to, also.

INVENTIONS AND JOBS

Fifty years ago one of the greatest inventions ever conceived by man was put into operation—the Mergenthaler Linotype. It enabled one man on the average, to set as much type as five men could set by hand. It revolutionized printing.

If those who insist that machines rob men of jobs are correct, then despite our population growth their should be fewer men working for the printing industry. But what are the facts shown in figures compiled by the United States Bureau of the Census?

In 1880, our population was around 61,000,000; in 1929, it was not quite double that—121,000,000.
In 1880, which was before the linotype really made itself felt, there were 50,000 persons employed in the printing industry.

A normal growth, therefore, would indicate that slightly less than 100,000 persons should have been employed in the printing industry in 1929. But if we accept the claims of the anti-machine advocates, then there should have been only 20,000 employed in the printing industry in 1929.

Actually, while population was growing only 100%, employment in the printing industry was rising nearly 500%—from 50,000 in 1880 to 251,000 in 1929.

These figures, of course, do not take into account the thousands of new jobs created by the increased demand for paper, ink, printing machinery, and similar supplies. Nor do they allow anything for the great educational advantages offered by less expensive books.

If we listened to the anti-machine agitators, we would go back to the days before the linotype was invented. Should we?

The Public Debt Is the People's Burden

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

America, according to latest statistics, is now staggering under a collection of governmental debts—federal, state and local—which reach an all-time high of over Fifty-three Billion Dollars.

This total is called the Public Debt. But a clearer name might be the People's Debt, or better still, the People's Burden. For whether they realize it or not, it's the people who must pay—not only the workers and earners of the present generation, but those of generations to come.

And it's a heavy bill that the politicians are running up for you and your descendants. It means that no matter how carefully you've conducted your affairs, no matter how you and your family have sacrificed to make ends meet, you're in debt to the amount of $415. That, say the statisticians, is the per capita share.

It means, further, that if you head a family of say five members, your family's share of the debt runs over $2,000. If the family is larger, so is its ultimate burden.

Just who plunged us all so deeply into the red?

The statisticians have analyzed that, too. They point out that Thirty-four Billion Dollars of the debt—approximately $264 per capita —was piled up by the Federal Government; while more than Nineteen Billion — approximately $151 per capita—was loaded on the people by state and local governments; or, to be more accurate, by the officeholders who hold the reins of government.

It must be pleasant for office-holding politicians to feel that they've been so generous. It's always pleasant to be generous with other people's money. That's a bright side of the picture.

But there's a dark side, too! It's reserved for the public—for the workers and housewives of America —who now pay and will continue to pay for the politicians' generosity, not only in higher taxes, but in increased costs for virtually everything they buy.

Vol. I—No. 9 Issued by L. E. Davis, Bethel August 6, 1936

Madame: "Did you tell those ladies at the door that I was out?" Uncle John came to visit, and before he left he gave his nephew a dollar bill. "Now, be good that Mule Hare!" Maid: "Yes, madame."
Madame: "What did they say?"
Maid: "They said 'how fortunate.'" Mule Hare: "Remember the saying, 'a fool and his money are soon parted.'"

Wes Kimball at Locke Mills decided that it was good business to Tommy, "but I want to have a double garage to park you for parting go with the Stowell with it just the same." Fred: "Do you know any good rule for estimating the cost of living?" Ned: "Yes. Take the amount of your income and add ten percent."

A chicken is the only thing we know of that is born and after it's dead it's kept it? She's doubled for ten years."

It is plain to be seen that Carl Brown and have been hearing good that Mule Hare! He has some last week, and are sure he is going like it.

BETHEL WINS THIRD GAME IN ROW—DEFEATS SOUTH RUMFORD 8 TO 0

by R. E. D.
Last Sunday those fans who followed the team to West Bethel saw a game featured by errorless bat-ing in the field and timely hitting at the plate.

For five innings Gogan of Rum-ford held the Bethel boys hitless.
In the sixth Doc Hood led off with a single. Stanley and Gill followed suit to fill the bases. Quimby came through with a triple to clear the sacks and scored a moment later on a wild pitch.

Littlehale started the seventh with a hit. Daniels scored him with a double and eased across the plate on Hood's second bingle. "Doc" also coming in shortly by virtue of another wild pitch.

Rumford bunched four of the eight hits allowed by Gill in the third for their two runs. That was the extent of their scoring as Jack pitched a masterful game all the way through.

Although the playing field was in terrible shape Bethel made no errors and Rumford only two. Rum-ford Head attended the funeral of Watson last Friday at Gorham as those who did attend were testify.

DROUGHT DICTATES CHANGE IN CONSERVATION PROGRAM

Two new provisions of the Agricultural Conservation Program as it applies to the Northeast region have been announced by the Maine conservation committee. Both are designed to make the program fit more closely conditions caused by dry weather.

The changes were recommended by Agricultural Conservation Committees of the nine states in the region and approved by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

One change removes the provision for deductions in case a farm's 1936 acreage of general soil-depleting crops is larger than the farm's general soil-depleting base. The change means that farmers who have increased their acreage of soil-depleting crops may collect in full for any payments they earn for using soil-building practices. The deductions would have wiped out or reduced such soil-building payments.

Officials said that many farmers in the northeast have found it necessary to increase their acreage of soil-depleting crops this year in order to counteract the effects of the drought. Such farmers now will be able to participate fully in other phases of the program.

The second change provides that farmers who planted nurse crops and were unable to seed soil-conserving crops at the usual time because of drought may seed the soil-conserving crops after the grain crops and still classify the acreage as soil-conserving. A farmer's land will be so classified only if his county committee determines that the grain crop was planted for nurse crop purposes, and that the weather conditions prevented him from seeding the soil-conserving crop at the usual time. In other cases such land will be classified as soil-depleting.

BETHEL AND VICINITY

Miss Gladys Richards of Arlington, Mass., is the guest of Miss Julia Brown this week.

The W. P. A. road work on Grover Hill will be completed in two weeks. The crew will then be employed on the Northwest Bethel road for a month or more.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Grindle of Seal Harbor, Eldredge Berry and Sidney Dyke of Westmont, N. J., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berry and family.

Mrs. Wallace Coolidge, Edgar and Barbara Coolidge, Miss Virginia Knight, Mrs. Frank Hunt and two children, Frank Jr. and Norma, spent Sunday at Stanwood Park, Farmington.

The local parking situation has been much improved by yellow markings in the vicinity of the post office. Spaces will also be marked from Bryant's store to the Naimy property.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Green of Medford, Mass., accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. E. B. Perry, and her son and daughter of Philadelphia, were visitors in town one day last week. Mr. Green is a native of Shelburne and worked in the store of the late Edwin C. Rowe here before going to Norway and later to Massachusetts.

A 26x10 foot addition is under construction at the H. F. Thurston & Son mill. It is planned to install sawal machines in this new space and perhaps another engine so that it can be operated as a separate unit. The larger area will make for increased convenience and efficiency and will take care of the concern's increasing business.

Don Huber, who is touring the State as a candidate for Governor on a platform embodying the Townsend plan, the homestead act, and "Every Man a Home" spoke to a small audience at the head of Main Street Wednesday morning. He had loud speaking apparatus on his car, so probably he reached a larger audience than appeared in public.

ALLISON BROWN

Allison Brown died at his home in Mason Tuesday morning after a long period of ill health, but was confined to his bed only about a week.

Mr. Brown was born in Albany, April 2, 1858, the son of Walter and Elizabeth Mason Brown, the eldest of 11 children. His early life was spent in his native town, but after his marriage to Miss Anna Styles, April 2, 1882, they went to Canton where they made their home for seven years. They then moved to the farm where they have lived for the past 45 years. They were the parents of two children who died in very early life.

He was affiliated with Anasagunticook Lodge, No. 32, I. O. O. F., at Canton, having been a member for the past 54 years.

He is survived by his wife, three brothers, Milford and True Brown of Bethel, and Blon Brown of South Paris, besides several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held from the funeral home of S. S. Greenleaf Friday at 2 p. m.

Among the citations from the Bible is the following: "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God." (1 Corinthians 2:9-11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christianity causes men to turn naturally from matter to Spirit, as the flower turns from darkness to light. Man then appropriates those things which 'eye hath not seen nor ear heard.'" (page 458:32-3).
